BARRE, SON OF KAZAN

by James Oliver Curwood

A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

Copyright, 1917, by Doubleday, Page & Co.

"BARRE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitaphone Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog. Is an Adaptation of This Story

SYNOPSIS

Barre, the wolf-dog, searching frantically for his mistress, Nepee, followed the trap-line she and her father used to traverse. There were plenty of rabbits in the traps and he did not go hungry, but he found no trace of the girl. He was a changed Barre. He was more than ever like a wolf, yet he never gave the wolf howl now, and always he snarled deep in his throat when he heard the cry of the pack.

Again, in the heart of a fierce February storm, he pursued a bull caribou so closely that it plunged over a cliff and broke its neck. He lived well, and in size and strength he was growing swiftly into a giant of his kind. In another six months he would be as large as Kazan, and his jaws were almost as powerful, even now.

The winter passed and spring came, and still Barre continued to haunt his old trails, even going now and then over the old trapline as far as the first of the two cabins. The traps were rusted and sprung now; the thawing snow disclosed bones and feathers between their jaws; under the deadfalls were remnants of fur, and out on the ice of the lakes were picked skeletons of foxes and wolves that had taken poison baits. The last snow went. The swollen streams sang in the forests and canyons. The grass turned green, and the first flowers came.

Surely this was the time for Nepee to come home! He watched for her expectantly. He went still more frequently to their swimming-pool in the forest, and he hung closely to the burned cabin and the dog-coral. Twice he sprang into the pool and whined as he swam about, as though she surely must join him in their old water frolic. And now, as the spring passed and summer came, there settled upon him slowly the gloom and misery of utter hopelessness. The flowers were all out now, and even the bakneesh vines glowed like red fire in the woods. Patches of green were beginning to hide the charred heap where the cabin had stood, and the blue-flower vines that covered the princess mother's grave were reaching out toward Pierrot's, as if the princess mother herself were the spirit of them.

"Again, in the heart of a fierce February storm he pursued a bull caribou so closely that it plunged over a cliff and broke its neck."

All these things were happening, and the birds had mated and nested, and still Nepee did not come! And at last something broke inside of Barre, his last hope, perhaps, his last dream; and one day he bade good-bye to the Gray Loon.

CHAPTER XXIV.

It was early in August when Barre left the Gray Loon. He had no objective in view. But there was still left upon his mind, like the delicate impression of light and shadow on a negative, the memories of his earlier days. Things and happenings that he had almost forgotten recurred to him now, as his trail led him farther and farther away from the Gray Loon; and his earlier experiences became real again, pictures thrown out afresh in his mind by the breaking of the last ties that held him to the home of the Willow. Involuntarily he followed the trail of these impressions—of these past happenings, and slowly they helped to build up new interests for him. A year in his life was a long time—a decade of man's experience. It was more than a year ago that he had left Kazan and Gray Wolf and the old windfall, and yet now there came back to him indistinct memories of those days of his earliest puppyhood, of the stream into which he had fallen, and of his fierce battle with Papayuchisew. It was his later experiences that roused the older memories. He came to the blind canyon up which Nepee and Pierrot had chased him. That seemed but yesterday.

And now, for the first time in many weeks, a bit of the old-time eagerness put speed into Barre's feet. Memories that had been hazy and indistinct through forgetfulness were becoming realities again, and as he would have returned to the Gray Loon had Nepee been there so now, with something of the feeling of a wanderer going home, he returned to the old beaver-pond.

It was that most glorious hour of a summer's day—sunset—when he reached it. He stopped a hundred yards away, with the pond still hidden from his sight, and sniffed the air, and listened. The pond was there. He caught the cool, honey smell of it. But Umisk, and Beaver-tooth, and all the others? Would he find them? He strained his ears to catch a familiar sound, and after a moment or two it came—a hollow splash in the water. He went quietly through the alders and stood at last close to the spot where he had first made the acquaintance of Umisk. The surface of the pond was undulating slightly; two or three heads popped up; he saw the torpedo-like wake of an old beaver towing a stick close to the opposite shore—he looked toward the dam, and it was as he had left it almost a year ago. He did not show himself for a time, but stood concealed in the young alders. He was growing in him more and more a feeling of restfulness, a relaxation from the long strain, of the lonely months during which he had waited for Nepee. With a long breath he lay down among the alders, with his head just enough exposed to give him a clear view. As the sun settled lower, the pond became alive. Out on the shore where he had saved Umisk from the fox came another generation of young beavers—three of them, fat and waddling. Very softly Barre whined.

All that night he lay in the alders. The beaver-pond became his home again. Conditions were changed, of course, and as days grew into weeks the inhabitants of Beaver-tooth's colony showed no signs of accepting the grown-up Barre as they had accepted the baby Barre of long ago. He was big, black, and wolfish now—a long-fanged and formidable looking creature, and though he offered no violence he was regarded by the beavers with a deep-seated feeling of fear and suspicion. On the other hand, Barre no longer felt the old puppyish desire to play with the baby beavers, so their aloofness did not trouble him as in those other days.

Self-Poisoning Takes Huge Toll

Many Fail in Life Through Sheer Neglect of Fundamental Rule of Health

Thousands of men and women are to-day victims of their own neglect. Grouchy, listless, quickly tiring, suffering from headaches and biliousness, they spend enormous sums in medicines without avail. They would give much to regain their old vitality.

Can it be done? Yes! How? Simply by recognizing the importance of one fundamental rule of health—the proper elimination of the bowel contents. Poisons that are allowed to remain in the system quickly lower the stamina, weaken the nerves and thus pave the way to ill-health. Stop this self-poisoning by taking Nujol—the scientific lubricant that completes the work of Nature's lubricant when, through modern living conditions, the natural supply fails.

Nujol can be taken indefinitely without injury to the system. Try Nujol to-day. Ask for it at your nearest drug store, but remember there is only one Nujol. Watch for the name "Nujol" in red on the label and package.

All through the month of August Barre made the beaver-pond his headquarters. At times his excursions kept him away for two or three days at a time. These journeys were always into the north, sometimes a little east and sometimes a little west, but never again into the south. And of last, early in September, he left the beaver-pond for good.

For many days his wanderings carried him in no one particular direction. He followed the hunting, living chiefly on rabbits and that simple-minded species of partridge known as the "fool hen." This diet, of course, was given variety by other things as they happened to come his way. Wild currants and raspberries were ripening, and Barre was fond of these. He also liked the bitter berries of the mountain ash, which, along with the soft balsam and spruce pitch which he licked with his tongue now and then, were good medicine for him. In shallow water he occasionally caught a fish; now and then he hazarded a cautious battle with a porcupine, and if he was successful he feasted on the tenderest and most luscious of all the flesh that made up his menu. Twice in September he killed young deer. The big "burns" that he occasionally came to no longer held terrors for him; in the midst of plenty he forgot the days in which he had gone hungry. In October he wandered as far west as the Gekkie River, and then northward to Wollaston Lake, which was a good hundred miles north of the Gray Loon. The first week in November he turned south again, following the Canoe River for a distance, and then swinging westward along a twist creek called the Little Black Bear With No Tail. More than once during these weeks Barre came into touch with man, but, with the exception of the Cree hunter at the upper end of Wollaston Lake, no man had seen him. Three times in following the Gekkie he lay crouched in the bush while canoes passed; half a dozen times, in the stillness of night, he nosed about cabins and teepees in which there was life, and once he came so near to the Hudson's Bay Company post at Wollaston that he could hear the barking of dogs and the shouting of their masters. And always he was seeking—questing for the thing that had gone out of his life.

Little Helps For This Week

O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! How unsearchable are His judgments, and His ways past finding out.—Rom. xi, 33.

Sayst thou, I know not how or where, No help I see where'er I turn; When of all else we most despair, The riches of God's love we learn; When Thou and I His hand no longer trace, He leads us forth into a pleasant place.

—Paul Gerhardt

We never know through what divine mysteries of compensation the great Father of the universe may be carrying out His sublime plans; but those three words, "God is love," ought to constrain, to every doubting heart, the solution of all things.

Believes All Life Originated In Asia

R. C. Andrews Says People Related to American Indians

Mr. Roy Chapman Andrews, who is returning with the American Museum of Natural History third expedition into the depths of Mongolia and the Gobi Desert, declared: "We received confirmation on our second expedition for the first time of our theory that all life originated and thrived on the Asiatic plateau, now the Gobi Desert. We found traces of human beings who lived 20,000 years ago. These people migrated to other parts of the world, but the cradle of life is there. I believe those people were related to the American Indians. I am convinced that a land bridge once connected Asia and North America, and that a great sea extended, in paleozoic times, through the entire central Asia plateau, from the Caspian Sea to the Pacific Ocean."

Why He Succeeded

From hard work on a farm to the study of medicine in Cincinnati, where he was graduated in 1862, was the course which Dr. R. V. Pierce took.

In his younger days he practiced medicine over a large district. It was then the new oil fields near Titusville, Pa. Finally he determined to put up some of his prescriptions in ready-to-use form in order to reach a larger number of families.

He thus early moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and established the World's Dispensary, where he put up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood as well as the Favorite Prescription for women, carefully preparing them from roots, barks and herbs and placed them with druggists everywhere.

During the last sixty years Dr. Pierce's Discovery, for the blood, has been sold in larger quantities by druggists than any other medicine. It is a tonic in its effects on the stomach and digestive apparatus; an alternative in its action on the blood, liver and skin. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, enriches the blood, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young and care free.

Ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory, in Bridgeburg, Ont.

Ripples Are Sponsored By Fashion

Here is presented a silhouette in long bodice effect with ample lower flare, a conspicuous feature of both the daytime and evening mode. The recent exposition of decorative arts at Paris caused some lovely designs in printed and bordered silks to be developed, one of which was chosen to fashion the upper part of this charming frock, with the flared skirt section in crepe-back satin. This model has a convertible collar opening far enough down the front to allow it to be slipped on over the head, and fastens with a narrow tie of the crepe satin. Long full sleeves showing the border at the lower edge are joined to the kimono-shoulders and gathered into bands of satin at the wrists. No 1053 is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 4½ yards 36 or 40-inch, or 3½ yards 54-inch material. Price 20 cents.

Our Fashion Book, illustrating the newest and most practical styles, will be of interest to every home dressmaker. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

Past Year Prosperous For Canadian National

Freight and Passenger Traffic Have Both Shown Increase

Having witnessed the transition from a period of operating deficits to one where the lines in the western region have earned operating profits for the company, the calendar year 1925 will go down to history as a successful one for the Canadian National Railways in Western Canada, declared Mr. W. A. Klugsland, general manager of western lines, in an interview at Winnipeg. Freight and passenger traffic, express and telegraph business alike have shown increases, and operating costs have been reduced by careful paring until the annual figures, which will be issued from system headquarters in Montreal shortly, will show an operating profit for the lines contained in the western region, which stretches from Armstrong, Ont., at the head of the lakes, to the Pacific coast.

While a large part of the increase over 1924 business is due to the increased yield of grain in the prairie provinces, there have also been increases in other commodities handled by the Canadian National as well as great increase in the passenger traffic over the western lines.

Indications at the present time are that still better times are ahead in 1926, as all signs point to continued improvement in business in the west and to a greatly increased immigration movement which, of course, will have its bearing on railway business during the coming year. Plans for handling this prospective increased business are continually before the Canadian National Railways executive and continual thought is given to methods whereby any improvement in the transportation service to the public can be made.

Study Of Cancer

Difference in Mortality in Various Countries Remains Unexplained

The reason for the pronounced differences between countries in mortality from cancer remains unexplained and may be attributed to a great variety of causes. This report has been made by the cancer commission of the League of Nations after an exhaustive inquiry into the subject. The commission declares, however, that the investigation has developed material for a more detailed comparison than had previously been possible on the incidence of mortality from cancer in terms of locality and nationality.

Obituary.

The death took place on Monday, January 24th, of Miss Thelma, youngest daughter of Mrs. G. B. Sexsmith, of Didsbury, the funeral being held on Wednesday, January 27th, at 2:30 p.m. The deceased, who was in her nineteenth year, succumbed to heart trouble, from which she had been suffering for some time. She went to Normal College some time ago, but after a month spent there was forced to return home, where she remained until her death.

The funeral service was held at the house, the Rev. McNutt officiating.

The family is one of the oldest in the district, Mrs. Sexsmith claiming a residence here of twenty-five years, and the sad event has naturally evoked for the sorrowing mother and family expressions of sympathy from a very large circle. The popularity of the deceased among her young friends was very pronounced, and her early death has created a gap which will long be felt.

Possibly exemplifying to a certain degree the sympathy felt locally, there were an unusually large number of beautiful flowers deposited upon the casket and at the graveside.

Olds Defeated.

Watt and Miller Put up Great Fight for Didsbury in the Mitchell Cup.

A large number of curlers were present at the rink on Wednesday night to witness the game between Didsbury and Olds for the Mitchell cup, and the success of the local team was greeted with considerable enthusiasm by their supporters. S. G. Watt skipped the senior and J. R. Miller the Junior for Didsbury, whilst Samis and Golay looked after the interests of Olds in a similar capacity.

The ice was fairly good and the game was keenly contested, our men however winning out by outstanding ability coupled with a good share of confidence and assurance in the result.

The game ended—
Watt 17—Samis 9; Miller 15—Golay 7.
According to a table worked out by Olds, they have 26 wins in their favor in this competition. Whilst Didsbury has but 24.

Scions of British nobility are learning farming under the most ideal conditions in Alberta, and by ideal conditions is meant, practical conditions, where every chore on the farm is handled at some time or other by men born under some of the most famous titles of Britain.

They are doing this on Cottesmore farm, 25 miles east of the city of Edmonton, in the rich Fort Saskatchewan district. Cottesmore farm is owned and operated by one George Bridges Harley Guest, who happens to be the eighth Baron Rodney, descendant of the famous Admiral Rodney whose victory over the French fleet in 1782 saved the empire of the Britons from the Bourbons.

Baron Rodney himself, and Lady Rodney, have gone through the throes of life as hired help on an Alberta farm, and are not putting others through their paces on their own rich and fertile farm overlooking the broad Saskatchewan river. Believing that in this day and generation agricultural life in Western Canada is a proper pursuit for those of noble blood they are leading these young aristocrats along the right path by putting them through every known job on a well-run farm. They have with them this year, which is the second year they have operated this school in farming, Montague, son of Lady Farquhar, the Duke de Nemours, descendant of the very Bourbons whom Rodney's illustrious ancestor helped to defeat, and others.

Everybody works on the Rodney farm. Lord and Lady Rodney themselves superintend the farm operations and actively participate in them. They know how. They have been through the mill. When they first came to Alberta they hired out through the government employment bureau and took a real job on a real farm. Later they bought Cottesmore farm, the original holding of which belonged to Judge Fiset, of Quebec. They farm 1,000 acres of the finest land in central Alberta, and their farm homestead stands on the brow of a high bank overlooking the Saskatchewan, providing one of the most beautiful views one could wish to see.

Visit the Rodney farm any day during the farming season and you will find the eighth Baron Rodney here, there and everywhere, doing any one of the tasks that come the way of a man who superintends operations on a 1,000 acre farm. You will find Lady Rodney in the kitchen doing her cooking, or out at the dairy barn where she takes an active part in the operations of the dairy end of the business, or out in her garden where she works herself. You will find the young Lord Montague feeding the hogs, or stocking grain, and young Farquhar and Stanley and the others driving teams or pitching sheaves or herding cattle, under the supervision of the instructor who is there to show them the right way to do things.

It is a case of everyone to his task and sticking on it at the Rodney farm. It must be that way on a farm which supplies, from its herd of 40 grade short-horns, all the milk and cream necessary for the big university hospital at Edmonton, where there are several hundred acres in crop, and a bunch of fine hogs to nurse. It is a real farm, run by real people, and the scions of British nobility like it. They say it is the life. They seem to care for no other. They are going to make good farmers.

NEW STATION AT JASPER NATIONAL PARK

IN architectural keeping with its surroundings, a handsome new station has been built by the Canadian National Railways at Jasper, Alta., the headquarters of Jasper National Park, to replace the structure which was destroyed by fire about one year ago. The new building, which is of natural boulders and stucco construction, provides ample room for the heavy tourist traffic which has developed to Canada's largest national park. In addition to comfortable waiting rooms, the building includes restaurant, baggage and express quarters as well as accommodation for a Canada customs officer, who is stationed there for the convenience of American and overseas visitors during the summer months.

Here and There

British Columbia's whaling industry produces about 400 tons of whale bone meal and 900 tons of meat and blood for fertilizing purposes annually. This is exported mostly to the United States.

According to G. F. Tomsett, superintendent of the Saskatchewan Branch of the Employment Service of Canada, about 43,000 harvest hands were brought into Saskatchewan and distributed over the province to harvest and thresh the 1925 crop.

Trade and War

The League of Nations is about to conduct an exhaustive inquiry into the subject of industry and commerce as they affect war. It is about time such an international probe be undertaken because there is a growing belief among the masses of people in all countries that many of the wars of the past have been deliberately incited by industrial interests, or by groups set on conquest, not for broad national interests, but because of selfish trade reasons and benefits.

It is to be earnestly hoped that the proposed inquiry will include a study of the effect which protective tariff have not only on trade itself, but upon patriotic aspirations and feelings of the people of one country towards another. That is to say, the effect of the action of one nation in imposing a high tariff wall against the products of another upon the maintenance of friendly feelings between the two countries. We venture the opinion that if all international trade was free and unrestricted by any man-made artificial barriers, there would be fewer prejudices, suspicions, and jealousies, leading to ill-feeling and in some cases war between nations.

No two national groups in the world are closer together in thought, sentiment and ideals than the United States of America and the British Commonwealth of Nations. They have lived in peace with each other for over one hundred years, and where United States and British territory join not a fort exists nor a gun is mounted. Yet ever and anon friction arises and in nearly every instance some petty industrial or commercial question is at issue.

For example, at the present time a great howdy-do is being raised in the United States because of the high price of raw rubber, of which about three-quarters of the world's supply is raised within the British Empire. On the other hand, the United States consumes about the same quantity. During the war, prices of crude rubber ranged about fifty cents a pound. Following the war the price dropped to around seventeen cents, which was below profitable production. To remedy this condition a special type of export tax was devised to reduce production. It was so arranged as to discourage production during periods of high prices, the idea being to create a fair and normal situation. The measure went into effect in 1922 and last year the effects began to be felt, rubber rising in price to around $1.00 a pound.

The big United States automobile manufacturers and other large users of rubber are bitterly complaining and charge the British with an unfair hold up policy. Some very severe things are being said against the British authorities and much anti-British feeling is being engendered. The United States Government and Congress are taking official cognizance of the situation. Not only so, but dire threats are being made as to United States action should Canada, in its own national interests, find it necessary to impose an export duty on pulpwood and pulp. All kinds of retaliatory measures are threatened.

The United States constitution prohibits the imposition of export taxes. But the United States has for years maintained the highest protective tariff on imports known to the world, a tariff which amounts in many cases to an actual prohibition of imports. Canada and Great Britain are the chief sufferers from these protective tariffs. They operate to close the United States markets—our natural market—to Canada's cattle and wheat. But while Canadians do not like it, nor consider it very friendly, they are not complaining, but are going about their own business of developing other markets.

During the war, Great Britain borrowed billions of dollars from the United States, but it expended every dollar in the purchase of goods in that country, paying without protest the very high prices demanded in the States. Thus the United States became inordinately prosperous and wealthy while Britain was impoverished. And Britain was obliged to do this, not for herself alone, but to sustain France and her other allies. But Britain did not complain.

The absurdity and inconsistency of the United States position is seen, however, in that, while denouncing the British action in regard to crude rubber, proposals are now before the United States Government and Congress to adopt exactly the same principle in order to raise United States agriculture out of the doldrums. About 15 per cent. of United States farm products are sold abroad. That is the surplus of production over domestic consumption. To sell the entire crop, prices have to go down to the foreign level, and this level is frequently below the cost of production. Hence the farmers have suffered.

As long as foreign prices remain below United States cost of production, the only way farming there can be made profitable is to sell no produce abroad. This means curtailed production for the time being. Just what the British brought about in the case of crude rubber. Unless some similar action is taken to curtail farm production in the United States to the requirements of the home market, the only other way to curtail production is for farming to continue unprofitable. It is proposed, therefore, that the United States should fix prices, but if the Government should do this, without the safeguards of the British plan, and thus make farming profitable, there would be increased, rather than decreased, production, and the problem of the surplus would become worse and worse.

Will Link Empire

With Air Service

Former Air Secretary Predicts This Will Come Early

That nations within the British empire would be closely linked by air transportation systems within the near future was the opinion expressed by Lord Thomson, who was secretary of state for air in the British Labor Government, in an interview at Toronto. Lord Thomson is a firm believer in airships particularly.

"I feel sure the time is coming when Canada will be linked by air with the Motherland," he said.

Canada should be an advantageous country for the development of commercial aviation. Lord Thomson thought. With such a vast territory he believed that a commercial system here would be a paying proposition. He also expressed the opinion that Canada could do much in development of a link in the imperial chain.

Lord Thomson is proceeding to England after completing a lecture tour in the United States.

TO THE MOTHERS OF ALL PALE GIRLS

If Your Daughter Shows Signs of Anaemia a Tonic is Needed

Anaemia is simply a lack of blood. It is one of the most common and at the same time most dangerous troubles from which growing girls suffer. It is common because the blood so often becomes impoverished during development, when girls often overwork and overstudy. It is dangerous because of the stealthiness of its approach and because of its tendency to grow steadily worse. Every growing girl should occasionally take a tonic to ward off this insidious trouble. It is because of their powerful action in rebuilding the blood that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made a world-wide reputation. The case of Miss Claire Sullivan, Pincher Creek, Alta., amply proves the value of this medicine. Miss Sullivan says: "During my school days I suffered a great deal from thin and watery blood. I was continually weak and tired; my appetite was poor, my sleep unrefreshing and I was troubled with backaches. To make matters worse I was attacked with acute appendicitis and the operation left me in a very weakened state. My mother, learning of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, had me take them and after using them for some time I can say the result was simply wonderful, as they completely restored my health, and now when opportunity occurs I always recommend these pills to weak, pale girls suffering as I did."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The more you stir up a plate of soup the cooler it becomes—and you'll find it's the same way with some friends.

Powerful Medicine.—The healing properties in six essential oils are concentrated in every bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, forming one of the most beneficial liniments ever offered to the use of man. Many can testify as to its power in allaying pain, and many more can certify that they owe their health to it. Its wonderful power is not expressed by the small price at which it sells.

"How's crops, Si?"
"Apples is small this year, with worm holes bigger'n your fist in 'em."

The cheapness of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator puts it within reach of all, and it can be got at any druggist's.

High Price Of Rubber

High British Rubber Prices Now Becoming Domestic Problem

While the British press is minimizing United States criticism of sky-high rubber prices, brought about by the Stevenson plan regulating the output of British plantations, and dispatches from Washington correspondents printed in the London papers are attempting to show that it is merely a trade row inspired by the automobile makers, it is evident that British officialdom is taking cognizance of the feeling, which is not confined to the United States, but is spreading throughout continental Europe.

British automobile owners are beginning to register protests against higher tire prices, and with the rapidly increasing British automobile industry the problem is becoming domestic.

JESUS AND NICODEMUS

Golden Text: God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have eternal life. John 3:16.

Lesson: John 3:1-17; 7:45-52; 19:38-42.

Devotional Reading: John 3:31-36.

Explanations and Comments

Nicodemus Comes to Jesus, verses 1, 2.—Nicodemus was a Jew with a Greek name. He was a Pharisee, a member of that sect which as a rule appears in the Gospels as bigoted and hypocritical, and a ruler of the Jews, a member of the Sanhedrin, the council of seventy men who formed the Jewish Court of Justice. He appears later as a defender of Jesus (Jn. 7:45-52). After the crucifixion he brought myrrh and aloes for the embalming of Christ's body. It was at night that Nicodemus made his famous visit to Jesus. He was cautious, and probably did not wish to endanger his reputation by being seen visiting the new Rabbi. (We are told later that some even of the Sanhedrin believed in Jesus, but did not dare let it be known lest they be put out of the Synagogue, Jn. 12:42.)

"Rabbi," said Nicodemus, "we know that thou art a teacher come from God; for no one can do these signs that thou doest, except God be with him." Nicodemus was convinced that Jesus was a divinely-commissioned Teacher, that Jesus' teaching was divinely authenticated by his miracles, and he came to hear what Jesus had to teach.

Sun Spots May Not Affect Weather

Experts at the Toronto meteorological office doubt very much if the spots on the sun have any effect on the weather. W. E. Jackson, local astronomical expert, said he was looking at the sun and saw two magnificent groups of sun spots. "You could drop the earth into the corner of either one of them," he declared. "There were 54 spots in one group alone. He said that it had not been definitely decided what influence, if any, the sun spots had on weather changes.

The Best Medicine She Ever Took

So Says Miss I. Charbonneau of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Ontario Lady is Very Enthusiastic and Gives Her Views About Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ottawa, Ont.—(Special).—"I was feeling very bad all over," says Miss I. Charbonneau, who lives at 304 Wilbrod Street.

"My head and back ached, my legs felt as though they were made of lead and my sight was bad. I felt tired all the time. A friend of mine who had used your Dodd's Kidney Pills told me to try them. I took three boxes and they have made a new person out of me. I felt better after taking the first box and have been perfectly well ever since. Dodd's Kidney Pills are certainly the best medicine I ever took and I highly recommend them to anyone suffering with their kidneys.

It is noticeable that people who have used Dodd's Kidney Pills are enthusiastic in recommending them to others. That is how Dodd's Kidney Pills have built up and maintained their world-wide reputation.

WHEAT POOLS OF TWO CONTINENTS MAY MEET SOON

Washington.—An announcement of the National Council of Co-operatives here says plans for a conference in February of all the wheat pools of the United States, as well as those of Canada and Australia, are expected to receive impetus at informal conferences to be held here during the period of the fourth annual conference of the National Council of Farmers' Co-operative Marketing Associations.

Advices received here from H. J. Farmer, of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers Limited, are to the effect that the Canadian connection has received word from every wheat association in the United States that it will be represented at the wheat conference, and tentative arrangements have been made to hold this conference at St. Paul, Minn., February 16.

Officials of the Canadian pools are in communication with officials of the Australian pools and representatives.

While the programme of the wheat conference has not been outlined, it is expected to deal largely with the co-ordination of activities of the various pools.

Among the addresses around which much interest is expected to revolve at the co-operative marketing conference here, is that of Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta, who will have as his subject, "What the Canadian Wheat Pools Are Doing."

To Preserve Order

Government of Nova Scotia Takes a Hand in Disorders in Mining District

Sydney.—The following is part of a statement issued by Hon. J. C. Douglas, attorney-general of Nova Scotia, following his arrival at Glace Bay:

"The Government of Nova Scotia is determined to do two things in connection with the unfortunate conditions existing in the coal mine areas of this province:

"First, it will see that no one goes hungry and that relief will be provided the people through municipal sources, the government being prepared to support to the fullest the action of the municipality in that connection.

"Second, the Government of Nova Scotia is firm and resolute in its determination to see that the law is upheld and order maintained.

"The parties who have been guilty of lawlessness in this district during the last few days will be arrested and brought to justice.

Fanatics Beat French Priest

Said Scourging Necessary to Expel "Spirit of Evil"

Bombon, France.—Abbe Desnoyers, the parish priest, is suffering intensely from the scourging he received at the hands of members of the fanatical "Order of Our Lady of Tears," while he lay stripped and gagged in the sacristy of his church. The priest himself is declared to be a member of the sect and the scourging is said to have been carried out in order to expel from his body the "spirit of evil which possessed it."

A dozen persons from Bordeaux, some of them aged women, are asserted to have comprised the party which in a manner savoring of the dark ages rendered the priest helpless and flayed him with cords and left him in such a serious condition that it is thought he will not be able to resume his priestly duties for a month.

Telegraphers Vote For Canadian Union

Secession From American Union Favored by Points West of Winnipeg

Winnipeg.—Canadian National Commercial Telegraphers at Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver, Victoria and all other points west of Winnipeg, have voted to secede from the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, and join the newly-formed Electrical Workers of Canada, M. Mark, chairman of the Pacific district, has announced.

"The secessionist movement," Mr. Mark said, "has been brought about not by activities of people with Communist tendencies as President Tom Moore of the Trades and Labor Congress stated, but through the Canadian workers waking up to the fact that they are sending tens of thousands of dollars in per capita money to the United States every year and receiving nothing in return."

London, Ont.—A. A. James, of the staff of Western University, in this city, has been awarded a grant of $1,000 by the advisory council for scientific and industrial research in connection with the discovery of liver extract remedy for blood pressure. Dr. James has been engaged in this line of research together with Dr. Laughton, also of the Western University. Rival claims for credit for the discovery of this remedy put forth by Dr. W. C. MacDonald, of St. Catharines, Ont., and Doctors James and Laughton, of the Western University, have recently engaged the attention of the Canadian Academy of Medicine and other medical and university bodies.

Blue Sky Legislation

Saskatchewan Government to Press For Dominion Enactment

Regina, Sask.—A resolution urging the Saskatchewan Government to continue to press the Dominion Government for the enactment of blue sky legislation to provide regulatory power over the sale of shares of Dominion companies operating in the provinces was adopted in the legislature.

For once the motion which is regarded as something of a hardy annual, did not get by without some opposition. W. E. Knowles, K.C., government, Moose Jaw, objected that it "cheapened" the legislature to make representations to the Dominion Government in matters within federal jurisdiction.

Bootleggers Take Profits

Winnipeg.—Bootleggers have made such inroads into the profits of the Manitoba liquor control commission that the authorities have offered a reward for the apprehension of violators or information that will lead to the seizure of illicit stills. It is estimated that the commission's profits decreased $100,000 in 1925.

Invited to Conference

Ottawa.—Industry and commerce as they affect war are to be studied at an international conference in Geneva this year, and Dr. Adam Shortt, Canadian economist, has been invited by the council of the League of Nations to participate in the preparatory committee meetings in March which will decide on an agenda.

Eastbourne, Eng.—Mr. and Mrs. James Sturgesant were in a railroad wreck five years ago, each losing an arm. Today they are constantly together working as one person, she with her left and he with his right. In cutting their food they also use both hands.

U.S. Farmers Have Problems

Chicago.—Sam S. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, in a statement issued from his office, pleaded with the people of the United States to give thought to the problem of handling the farmers' exportable surplus.

Interested in Horsemanship

London.—The Institute of the Horse has been founded in London to revive interest in horsemanship and riding. The founders admit the automobile is boss of the road, but they want to put the horse back on the throne of king of the bridle path.

FRANCE SUFFERS HEAVY LOSSES THROUGH FLOODS

Paris.—Persistent rains are swelling some of the rivers and delaying the fall in those which had reached the flood peak.

During the last week of December the rainfall in France exceeded six times the normal. In Paris, during the first four days of January, there fell an average supply of rain for fifteen days.

Consequently, the outlook of the flood sufferers is gloomy. The Seine and its tributaries continued their upward move.

Many of the Paris suburbs have now been invaded by flood waters. In the provinces, with few exceptions, the situation is better. If the rivers are not going down, they have stopped going up.

In Belgium there is a general improvement. The situation, however, still is critical.

The Belgian national subscriptions for the relief of the flood victims has reached 5,000,000 francs ($25,000), and additional funds are pouring in from all parts of the country and abroad. Early next week the Belgian chamber will take its first action on a measure providing credits for urgent rehabilitation work in the devastated regions. This work will be extended for several years, and is expected to cost around 120,000,000 francs.

Colonize Wrangel Island

Soviet to Send Ten Families of Eskimos For This Purpose

Vladivostok.—Wrangel Island off the Northeastern Siberian coast which for a century has been claimed alternatively by the United States, Canada, Britain and Russia, will soon be colonized by the Soviet Government.

The far eastern revolutionary committee in conjunction with a stock company has undertaken to send ten families of Eskimos and inhabitants of the Ghoukotski district to the barren island to form the nucleus of the future population.

The settlers will be supplied with food sufficient for three years, rifles and ammunition for four years, and the necessary dogs and fishing and hunting equipment.

The government also will erect a wireless station on the island capable of communication with Canada, the United States and Russia.

New Branch Line

Winnipeg Is Now Connected By Rail With Fort Alexander

Winnipeg.—The first train ran over the new Canadian National branch line from Winnipeg to Fort Alexander on Tuesday. Fort Alexander is the site of extensive developments in connection with the establishment of a new pulp and paper mill. Regular passenger traffic over the new line will begin January 20.

It is expected that a new town with a population of four thousand will be established at the mill site, and in addition railway officials expect that other traffic will originate along the line through the drainage of the land, which has up to now been too wet for profitable agricultural work.

Tax On Gasoline

Gas Tax Fund May Go To Aid Roads in Manitoba

Winnipeg.—Revenue from the provincial tax on gasoline and automobile licenses may be earmarked exclusively for construction and maintenance of roads, according to a communication from Premier John Bracken, addressed to the Manitoba Motor League.

Such a move would provide approximately $500,000 for road construction throughout the province and would place the responsibility of financing and control of trunk highways upon the Provincial Government.

No Aid For Childless Families

Winnipeg.—Cupid has been unusually active among the bachelor unemployed of Winnipeg since the authorities announced no relief would be given to single men. With the added responsibilities of a wife, a number of jobless men experienced a rude shock when informed that no aid would be given to childless families.

Prince Stays Home This Year

Announcement of Engagement to Swedish Princess is Expected

London.—Plans for the Prince of Wales to make another foreign tour during 1926 have been abandoned, it is announced. The Prince probably will not leave the British Isles during this year.

This was taken by many today as confirmation of the reports that the engagement of the heir to the throne, and possibly his marriage to Princess Astrid of Sweden, will be accomplished within this time.

It was reported some time ago that the "Empire's Ambassador," as he was called following his tour of South America, might go to Ireland, but evidently this project also has been abandoned.

Dame Rumor for several years has been picking brides for the unmarried heir-apparent, but now has fastened with some firmness on the name of the Swedish Princess, who is said to have won the hearts of the British royal family.

League Official Injured

Director of Disarmament Section Hurt In Auto Accident

Geneva.—Salvador Madariago, of Spain, director of the disarmament section of the League of Nations, was seriously injured in an automobile accident at Annecy, France, about 20 miles south of Geneva. His chest was badly crushed, but it is believed that he is out of danger and that he will be able, before long, to carry on his disarmament work. He recently was named to serve as secretary-general at future disarmament meetings.

Mme. Madariago had two ribs broken. Their automobile was sideswiped by a motor camion.

Retreat Of Soviet Troops Demanded

Afghan Government Also Insists On Release of Prisoners

Teheran.—According to the Afghanistan legation the Soviet frontier guard still is in Afghan territory after an attack on Afghan border guards. One junior officer was killed. Five Afghan soldiers were poisoned. The Afghan Government, in a note to the Soviet minister at Kabul, demands the immediate retreat of the Soviet troops from the occupied territory, the release of prisoners and the payment of damages.

Regina.—Notice of appeal against the judgment recently given by Mr. Justice Embury dismissing the action brought by the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool against Leon R. Zurowski, Southey, for breach of contract, was lodged in the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal by R. H. Milliken, Saskatoon. The appeal will be made at the March sittings of the court.

Invents Grain Stooker

Winnipeg.—Patents have been granted to Joshua K. Lambert, a pioneer farmer of the Tregarya district in Saskatchewan, for a grain stooker, which is reported to have proved successful under exacting tests. It is proposed to establish a factory in Winnipeg for the manufacture of the new machine.

PLAN NATIONAL CONVENTION OF PROGRESSIVES

Regina.—A national convention of Progressives in the near future to decide national policies was agreed to at a meeting of Saskatchewan members of the party in session here, and the provincial executive was authorized to co-operate with Progressive organizations in other provinces and with the Federal Progressive members to bring the meeting about.

The provincial executive will meet in Saskatoon, during the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association convention, at the end of January, when details of the proposed national meet will be discussed.

Resolutions were also passed favoring the appointment of a provincial organizer, and providing for the organization of Progressive service clubs, along the lines of Kiwanis and Rotary, in towns, villages and rural districts, wherever feasible.

The clubs will provide recreation and intellectual entertainment, with a view to placing before the public Progressive policies and of outlining the work of the Progressive party in parliament. The purpose is to create a permanently active body and sustain interest in Progressive ideals the year round.

Old Country Colony For Northern Alberta

Overseas Settlement Committee and C.P.R. Enter Into Contract

Montreal.—The first direct contract to be entered into between the Canadian Pacific Railway and the overseas settlement committee of the Imperial Government has been effected, the fruits of which will be the creation of an Old Country colony in Northern Alberta to be known as the "Clan Donald" colony.

The other signatory to the contract is the Scottish Immigrant Aid Society, which will secure the immigrants and under whose auspices they will be housed and settled.

Settlement will commence in the spring on prepared farms with 40 immigrant families already in the country to be swelled during the following months by 60 additional families, until the complete colony of 100 families is satisfactorily established.

Chicago.—More than 3,000 poems from every state of the Union, Canada, Ireland and Continental Europe have been received by the music committee of the eucharistic congress in the competition for the official hymn for the world gathering of Roman Catholics here June 20-24.

So great has been the response to the request for a hymn that a book of 100 of those deemed best will be published, in addition to the first choice.

These books will be sent to countries which subscribed poems.

Requests of music to accompany the hymns selected will be made after the best poems are chosen.

Gave Himself First Aid

Port Arthur, Ont.—Working alone in the woods, Earl Killins fell on a snag and severely injured himself. With no way of getting immediate medical attention, Killins dressed the wound himself and put in two stitches. His work, however, was unsuccessful, infection developing, and he is now in hospital here.

Floods In Belgium

Brussels.—Belgium now is confronted with the task of restoring her devastated regions, scourged this time not by war but by floods. It is estimated that the destructive waters have caused nearly as much ruin as fire and sword did in 1914. The damage is sure to mount into the hundreds of millions of francs.
